

Flu Season is Here: Get Your Flu Shot

Why It's Important

Many doctors recommend a flu vaccine to protect against the influenza virus. The flu vaccine is a preventive tool for everyone and may be even more important for people with chronic health conditions. This is especially important this year, as the flu season may be compounded with COVID-19.

Get Your Flu Shot

For employees and spouses enrolled in Trane Technologies medical coverage, you can get your flu vaccine:

- At a Trane Technologies location as part of a biometric screening/flu vaccine event generally held in October or November each year. If applicable, details about onsite screenings are available at your site.
- At your doctor's office. This preventive care is covered at 100% through Trane Technologies' medical coverage.
- At any CVS pharmacy or participating network pharmacy (68,000+ participating pharmacies nationwide). Show your CVS Caremark ID card to receive your vaccine.

Employees not enrolled in Trane Technologies medical coverage may use a voucher at a CVS retail pharmacy (including those in Target stores). Call the Trane Technologies HR Solutions Center at 866-472-6793 to request a voucher.

Medical Plan Participants: Employees and spouses who are enrolled in Trane Technologies' medical benefits can also earn points towards their financial rewards for receiving a flu vaccine. Earn 10 points by getting your flu shot and completing the related ActionCard. To receive points, get your flu shot between Oct. 1–Sept. 30 of the current program year. Points are awarded in the quarter in which you attest to receiving your flu vaccine. After the quarterly deadline, you cannot retroactively attest and receive points for a previous quarter.
